Education budget tops $9 million

The cost of education in Haliburton County has climbed over the $9 million mark for the first time.

On April 22, the Haliburton County Board of Education approved the 1986 budget of $9,102,000 up 6.9% over last year's total.

Ratepayers in the county will be responsible for $5,683,565 of the total with the remaining portion of the budget being covered by provincial grants.

Municipal levy increases range from 4.06% to 7.29% with the county average being 7.11%.

The increase in the levy may be higher than the rate of inflation but it is considerably less than the jump in taxes paid by local property owners in 1985. While last year's budget increased by only 6.65%, the municipal levy rose by 19.4%, due, in part, to the trend to decrease provincial assistance.

Since 1980, when the county budget was set at $5.25 million, the overall budget has increased 73% while the provincial assistance for ordinary expenditures has risen by only 43% from $2,260,000 in 1980 to $3,329,000 this year.

Ratepayers in the municipality of Dysart et al, will be responsible for the largest share of the municipal levy - 31% of the total, or $1,773,559. Anson, Hindon and Minden ratepayers will pay $1,137,125 or 20% of the total. The municipal levy for the Township of Stanhope covers 11.6% of the total, or $659,465.

Salaries, transportation costs and expenditures on supplies and services add up to the lion's share of the total costs. Instructional salaries will amount to 56% of the total budget. The $5,107,000 figure represents an increase of $405,900 over 1985.

Administration, secretarial, clerical and caretakers salaries have increased by $85,500 to $839,100.

Transportation costs, which account for 12% of the budget, total $1,093,000, an increase of $66,000 from last year.

Eleven per cent of the budget will be spent on supplies and services. The predicted expenditure of $993,095 exceeds last year's total by $24,823. Employee benefits will rise from $323,915 to $379,345.

Because of the need to carry out repairs to several schools, the expenditures for repairs and alterations will Lesley Tashlin breaks the tape to win the 100 metre dash in a record time of 13.8 seconds during the track and field meet held at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Thursday. Eight school track and field records were broken during the annual meet despite the inclement weather. For story and more pictures, please turn to page 12.

Meeting will consider heritage park

At 7:30 tonight (May 7) the Minden County Town Museum Committee will hold a public discussion of its plans to erect a Heritage Park on land adjacent to the Minden Museum. The discussion will be held in the Anson, Hindon and Minden council chambers.

The committee proposes to include in the park a pioneer settlement made up of a bank, a barn, a store, a church and a number of log houses. Funds to meet the cost of the park - if the public agrees to it - will come, it is hoped, from the Provincial Ministry of Culture and Recreation, the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden and possibly from area service clubs.

Stan Hill, a member of the Museum Committee, says the idea for the park was first put forward two years ago, after a Haliburton resident donated to the Minden Museum a two storey log house, built in the mid-nineteen hundreds. "People have been donating artifacts to the museum ever since it was erected on its present site," but, says Hill, the log house required different treatment. The park, he argues, is a way to save the building and many others like it around the county.

"We are trying to preserve the heritage of Haliburton County," and that includes, says Hill, everything from books and old tools to buildings. "We want to have something here for local residents, many of whom are related to the first pioneers." "And it will also be a tourist attraction for the county."

Hill acknowledges that the proposed park will probably not provide any full-time jobs. "We hope to make use of volunteer help." The buildings the committee hopes to place in the park, Hill says, will require little maintenance.

HHSS athletes break 8 track and field records

Eight HHSS track and field records were broken Thursday afternoon as athletes from throughout the county participated in the annual school meet. Alex Little turned in three record breaking performances to lead the day of competition.

His records came in the 400 meter run with a time of 55.9 seconds, the 800 meter run with a time of two minutes, 9.8 seconds and the 1500 meter run with a time of four minutes 26.4 seconds. The record breaking hat-trick also earned Alex the senior boys championship with a total of 21 points.

Other athletes re-writing the record book included: junior girl, Lesley Tashlin in the 100 meter run with a time of 13.8; senior girl, Miriam Smith in the discus with a toss of 29.6 meters; junior boy, John Vanderhorst in the 100 meter run with a time of 11.8; junior boy, Ted Paish in the 1500 meter run with a time of four minutes 32.4 seconds; and junior boy, Brad Archer in the shot put with a distance of 12.68 meters.

Jodie McKnight was named the midget girls champion with a total of 15 while Tanya Willison was the runner-up with 13 points.

Leading the junior girls was Lesley Tashlin with 20

Report will track acid rain readings

As more people are aware, acid rain is a serious problem in many parts of the world. The Highlands of Haliburton are particularly vulnerable to the impact of acid rain because of the thin soil and reduced buffering capacity of the land, lakes and rivers.

In an effort to increase the awareness of area residents to the effect acid rain is having on our area, The Times begins a regular report with this week's issue, Acid Rain Report.

The Acid Rain Report will provide information on recent rainfalls at the Dorset testing station of the Ministry of the Environment. The report will normally appear on page 2.

This week's report covers the period April 27 to May 3. Only one precipitation event was recorded in the time period, that being on May 1. The mixed rain and snowfall was measured at 7 cm with a pH of 4.3. The precipitation passed over Indiana, Ohio and Southern Ontario before being registered at Dorset.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. pH readings less than 4.0 is considered serious.

Joan Irish returned as Legion president

Joan Irish has been elected to her second term as President of Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 129, Haliburton. Irish defeated Doug Pritchard, her only challenger, to assume the leadership of the branch for the 1986-87 term.

There was keen interest shown in the election by the membership. 160 ordinary and affiliate members attended the election and installation of officers at the Legion hall on Thursday.

The marathon session began at 8 p.m. and was not completed until the swearing-in ceremony shortly before midnight.

Members of the Ladies Auxilliary also took part in the ceremony that was conducted by Zone Commander, Mel Robertson, Deputy Zone Commander, Stan Moore and Ladies Auxilliary Zone Commander, Gwen Cox.

Also elected as officers of the branch were First Vice President, Doug Pritchard, Second Vice President, Fred Knight, Third Vice President, Gerald Irish, Secretary, Mabel Brannigan, Treasurer, Wally Chambers, Sergeant-At-Arms, Irv Chambers, Auditors Dawson, Grey, Dart and the six member executive Allin Cooper, Ed Pickard, Reg Crockett, Lloyd Whittaker, Jack McDonagh and Wayne Wood. Lloyd Whittaker was also appointed Branch Service Officer.

Bruce McKay is the immediate Past President having served as President during the 1984 - 85 term.

Members of the Ladies Auxilliary who took part in the swearing in ceremony included: President Jan Shipley, Sergeant-At-Arms Joan Hobson, Secretary Jean Marsh, and Treasurer Joyce Ross. Members of the Ladies Auxilliary Executive for the 1986-87 term are Laura Bannon, Verna Draper, Irene Higgins, Catherine Juby, Eileen Morrison, Ann Pitman and Joyce Wood.

The officers and members of the executive have a busy year ahead of them as the Royal Canadian Legion Ladies Auxilliary celebrates its Diamond Jubilee.

In her address to the membership following her election, President Joan Irish paid tribute to the involvement of the affiliate members, the past executive and the Ladies Auxilliary. In the coming years, the Royal Canadian Legion, the largest service organization in the country, will see some significant changes and a new direction, she commented.

She predicted the differentiation between ordinary and affiliate members will end as the veterans grow older and take a less active role in the organization. She stressed the importance of the Army Cadet Corp formed this past year in Haliburton, for it is those youngsters who will carry on the work of the Legion, she remarked.

The election of the officers and the executive served as a vote of approval by the membership for the new direction undertaken by the leadership over the past year. In addition to the service work, awards of bursaries, sponsorship of the poster & public speaking contest, Branch 129 sponsored the application for the construction of a senior citizen's apartment complex which will be built this summer in the village of Haliburton.

Branch 129 also undertook the establishment of the Army Cadet Corp attracting nearly 100 recruits. Recently Membership chairman Fred Knight won the Paddy Burke Trophy for the largest increase in membership in Zone F4.

Branch 129's sponsorship of the Bluegrass Festival to be held this August is an indication of the branch's increased involvement in the community and promises to be one of the highlights of the summer season.

Education budget

jump from $44,550 in 1985 to an estimated $107,900 this year, an increase of 142%.

Tuition fees paid to other boards are expected to increase from $393,400 to $423,500.

On a more positive note, capital expenditures are expected to drop from $81,070 in 1985 to $75,150 this year and debt charges will also decrease from $221,700 to $83,910. The drop in debt charges is partly the result of the retirement of the debenture on Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Ratepayers in the county have been awaiting the release of the budget with some apprehension. Since 1980, education costs have soared and have accounted for a significant portion of local property owners' tax bills. Between 1980 and 1983 the budget increased an average of 13% a year. Ratepayers were given a break in 1984 when the budget grew by only 4.2% but last year the 6.65% increase in the overall budget resulted in a jump of nearly 20% in local education taxes.

Ratepayers were not the only ones awaiting, the board of education budget. Municipal councils must now consider their own expenditures in light of the education and county requirements before arriving at the 1986 mill rate. The rate will also reflect the municipal apportionment to the county government. County expenditures have also risen by 10.1%, resulting in a total municipal levy of $1,014,870.

The following chart outlines the financial responsibilities of each municipality toward the total tax levy. The second column indicates the amount the ratepayers of each municipality must pay and is the sum of the elementary and secondary school requisitions. A example for us all

As publisher and editor of The Times, I am pleased to announce that this newspaper has nominated Chantelle McKnight as a candidate for the Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year Awards Program.

The Ontario Junior Citizen of the Year Awards Program is co-ordinated by the Ontario Community Newspapers Association, of which this publication is a member. CP Air is the corporate sponsor of the program.

The program recognizes young people of the province who have made an outstanding contribution to their community.

We believe that Chantelle's willingness to give unselfishly of her time for the benefit of the residents of Hyland Crest provides an outstanding example of the qualities this awards program was created to recognize. Chantelle's dedication to her duties and genuine interest in the residents of the senior citizens' home in Minden is a shining example for her peers, and indeed, for all members of our community.

In making the nomination, The Times will submit the article which appears in today's newspaper and letters of endorsement from others familiar with her contribution and service.

There are many young people from across the province who will be nominated for equally meritorious service and of course, only a few can be selected for this coveted award. However, we are confident that whether or not our nominee is chosen, Chantelle has already received ample recognition from the seniors she knows so well at Hyland Crest.

Speak out

In addition to providing information about the community we serve, an important duty of this newspaper is to comment on issues of the day. We invite our readers to speak out as well on matters they feel need airing.

Letters to the editor attract high readership, offering different points of view on issues of importance and offer the opportunity for a free exchange of ideas, a vital part of a democratic society. This newspaper will always respect the right of citizens to be heard, within limits dictated by legal restrictions and good taste. We ask that writers be willing to allow their names to appear with their letters.

Editor:

I view with alarm the antics of our new council, especially the statements of Councillor Verne Graham.

In reading your paper, I find that when the new zoning bylaw came up at council, Mr. Graham declared a conflict of interest in the bylaw. What was the conflict he had? Conflict means that a person has a financial interest in the bylaw. He is either for it or against it. Does that mean all the objections he had during the election campaign was just a bunch of hot air?

Mr. Graham wants to give the Fair Board free rent at the arena in perpetuity. Perpetuity means forever and a day. This is the taxpayers' money that he graciously dispenses. Or is this just another election promise?

Now, Mr. Graham endorses the museum committee's request to build a $100,000 building. Grants or no grants, it is going to be the taxpayers who are going to foot the bill. We have an arena and library complex which serves us cottagers too. Let us keep developing these complexes. We don't need another monument to satisfy a few self-serving groups.

We have no representative now who acts as our watchdog, so naturally our taxes will go sky high. I am fully expecting that because this council thinks that they are doing a good job, they will jack up their salaries.

Throne speech backs farming community

-by John Eakins, MPP -

One of the priorities set out in last month's Throne Speech is our government's continued commitment in the area of agriculture. The Throne Speech recognizes the importance of Ontario's primary industries, which still provide the economic backbone of rural Ontario, particularly in Victoria-Haliburton.

In response to the needs of Ontario's farm community, we will enhance our programs offering financing and marketing support for Ontario farmers.

This assistance will include additional efforts to improve the health of Ontario farm animals and aid farmers to enhance the care and productivity of their soils. In addition, a key initiative will be undertaken to double food exports to the Pacific rim.

These measures will be geared to building upon the competitive base of Ontario's farmers and food processors. To that end, a special program will be put in place to provide marketing assistance to Northern Ontario farmers, and widen consumer choice in that region.

We will also pursue a policy of encouraging the adaptation of research and advanced technology to the needs of the food industry. Early efforts in that direction include a modernized pesticide laboratory to maintain the highest standards of expertise in pesticide analysis and a world class food quality laboratory to safeguard Ontario consumers by ensuring that food products meet established quality and safety standards.

Programs will also be put in place to advance modern technology development and export potential of two rapidly emerging industries - remote sensing and computerized based mapping.

The measures to improve the agricultural sector, as well as tourism initiatives discussed last week, will benefit those in Victoria-Haliburton in many ways.

It's like a scene from Raiders of The Lost Ark. The rising spring sun beats down. A tiny, nondescript crevice comes suddenly to life. Up they pop - finger-sized periscopes - each rotating silently to survey the terrain. First one, then another and another - sets of black-and-yellow stripes. Like a line of living skipping ropes, they wind a crazy path through grass, shrubbery and branches - each following the identical path of its predecessor. The sun rises, and the leader stops. But onward the rest of the parade slithers, into a great winding, living ball.

Garter snakes - most common and widespread of Ontario's 17 species - are now emerging in numbers. Immediately recognized by their black-and-yellow stripes, these 1/2 m snakes are slack-looking, drab versions of the thumb-thick snakes we'll see in mid-summer.

Emaciated as they emerge - their fat reserves near-exhausted in 5 months of hibernation and 2 more of on-and-off sleep - they're driven by two compulsive needs. The first is to mate; the second is to eat-and-eat-and-eat, to rebuild those fat reserves.

Mating upon emergence is no coincidence; it's an adaptation that brings snakes into season both at the same time of year and when snakes are most concentrated. Imagine a hypothetical kind of cat that had no voice and could breed only on one or two days per year - distributed randomly through a vast, dense spruce forest at perhaps 1 or 2 cats per square mile. The chances of them encountering each other at exactly the right time would be infinitesimal. To snakes, grass is a dense forest.

But each fall, snakes must seek out hibernacula - narrow, winding hollows penetrating to frost line or below - if its residents are to survive. Such precise conditions don't abound, and those that do generally become "shared quarters." In Ontario, they're often winter beds to 10 - 100 snakes, although some in the prairies harbour thousands.

On these balmy summer-like spring days, garters emerge by the hundred. The females - generally slightly larger than the males - release scents. These are laid down on the ground through the vent, the single combined opening for wastes and reproductive organs that separates tail from body. Males locate the females by tongue.

Snake tongues are not stingers as many people believe, but rather specialized smelling organs. Acting

A helping hand at Hyland Crest

by John Greenwood

It's 10:30 on Saturday morning and it's cold outside. A stiff breeze whips up the dust and sends it scudding in little eddies across the road. Most kids, naturally, are trying to stay warm by huddling in front of the TV, the set tuned to some fast-action cartoon show to get their blood moving. But Chantelle McKnight is different. For the past 2 years the grade seven student has been coming to do volunteer work at the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home - starting recently at 10:30 every Saturday morning.

Why does she do it? "I like older people and I like helping them," Chantelle explains simply. Smartly dressed in a candy-striped uniform custom made by staff members Doris Robertson and Linda English, she takes a cart of chocolate bars, cigarettes, and sundries around to each of the residents. This way, says Chantelle, seniors who find it difficult to get around or who, for some reason, miss the tuck shop, will still have the opportunity to buy something.

Residents brighten as the young candy-striper trundles toward them with her trolley. "What do you want?" demands a crusty gentleman, as a Times reporter asks him for comments, "I'm not interested." Then he turns to smile politely at Chantelle. Newspapers and the media may come and go but Chantelle arrives with her tuck cart only once a week.

McKnight, who wants to be a nurse when she finishes school, first began going to the Hyland Crest to visit her grandfather, a resident of the home. Linda English noticed her interest in other seniors and their activities and invited McKnight to come in and help. In the beginning she worked with a program called Fun and Fitness. "I would help take residents to the auditorium. If they fell asleep, I would wake them up and if they had any troubles, I would bring them back to their rooms."

And last summer, she began holding bingo games at the Hyland every Thursday night. "In the winter the Kinsmen organize the bingo, but they don't do it in the summers. The residents still want to play so I tried it and I liked doing it." Did bingo get in the way of her homework? "Yes," she admits, quickly adding, "But not very much."

Chantelle offers resident Margaret Sisson a box of Kleenex.

Though it has been some time since she held any bingo games, Chantelle has recently taken the responsibility of supplying the residents with tuck on Saturday mornings.

Time can be made for school work, but other kids at school, McKnight allows, are a different story. Most of her classmates support her work at the Hyland, but there is some disagreement. "A few boys in my class think that just because I help old people I'm an old softee." But her friends think, "it's a nice thing to do, and sometimes they even come in on Saturday to help me."

Chantelle quietly wheels her cart through the hallways. Rounding a corner, we approach one very old lady sitting, bowed over, on a chair against the wall. The lady has difficulty speaking, but her bright eyes are focussed on McKnight's face. She gestures at a box of Kleenex and she's obviously grateful to get what she wants and to have her change carefully made out. As we continue down the hall, Chantelle remarks, "I have to make sure she can read my lips. She's deaf."

It's the personal attention, says staff member Doris Robertson, that has most endeared Chantelle to the residents. "A lot of residents are hard of hearing. When the tuck shop is open, it's operated by someone who stays in behind the counter. Never before has there been someone who's been willing to take it from room to room." Members of the home, says Robertson, are charmed with Chantelle. "They just love her. She's special. I think it's because she's really interested in the seniors."

In the common room, the nurses are sitting down at their coffee break. No one is anxious to offer an opinion - it's a bit early in the morning - But Terry Dillon is sitting close to the door and there is a vacant chair beside her. She relaxes when she learns the questions are not about her. Yes, says Dillon, Chantelle is a hit among the residents. "The more they get to know her the better it is. They like younger people and they like talking to them. And of course they

Trapping and hunting

- by Gary Kenney -

Having done both, I make little distinction between my hunts for animals with a fire-arm and those conducted with traps. There are differences of course. Just as there is between fishing with a line and hook, and using a sixty foot trawler.

The hunter, it might be said as well, stalks quarry for food, while the trapper uses more industrial arts to profit by the removal of his/her prey's skin.

For me though, the fine line between them blurs when considering each as examples of my relationship with things non-human. Such consideration, of course, is very much a personal journey, and with that in mind I don't pretend to understand the very obvious harmony some few individuals I have met seem to have established with the wild.

Their lives blend all parts of the hunt into a larger whole that appears so much more genuine than a calculated and economic commitment to "sport" or "harvest".

I venture to say, however, that most of us are fairly removed from that level of involvement. We fumble to secure better family circumstances at work and play with our neighbours, and leave the less domestic aspects of our nature for secondary thought.

In that sense we are the focus of attention for a federal discussion paper entitled 'Defense Of The Fur Trade', and a seminar conducted for government officials with the theme 'Launching The Offensive'.

Both are concerned with growing criticism by animal rights movements, conservationists, and members of the general public that are described as "vulnerable to emotional issues and messages."

The seminar was contracted to the Washington, D.C. firm Gray and Company Public Communications International.

In language that is chillingly military in tone, the Gray seminar called for a "pre-emptive offensive to counter protests ... directed toward ... the key political, thought-leader community and the public at large."

Thought-leaders? Shades of Orwell's 1984??

Gray and Company go on to recommend a general strategy that centres on two main objectives. First, "the leghold trap is a necessary sacrifice."

Second, a lobbying organization is to be formed, "perhaps called Friends Of Nature", with no seeming ties to the fur industry and yet able through its "prestigious Board and respected Executive Director, unidentified with fur interests" to promote the "partnership between man and the wild, and the necessary, humane trapping of wildlife as a responsible and essential economic, environmental, and social issue."

One of Gray's more innovative ideas is the use of a logo on fur products "approaching the credibility of the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval ... to assure the wearer that the animal was caught humanely and by a caring and interested community where environmental balance is always a key consideration."

The seminar ended with a call for "interesting, colourful, and important lifestyle, livelihood and nature stories ... about ... man sharing a seemingly hostile environment with wild animals, and battling the dangerous elements."

Government comments were less romantic.

The annual "harvest" varies from three to six million animals each year, and supports a $600 million fur industry.

Ministry officials were concerned that, "many elementary school children are receiving the message in various school activities that wearing furs is somehow wrong. Moreover ... the majority of television shows generate some element of confusion in the minds of young viewers regarding human/animal relationships. There is a very real possibility the next generation of adults will be predisposed to reject fur garments."

Our bureaucrats are worried that, "cartoon characters promote an even closer emotional tie between the child and his/her perception of animals."

Next week I'll finish with the ministry proposals, and some personal conclusions that are becoming all the more poignant as a certain two year-old starts to ask questions.

Business briefs

Another new retail outlet opens its doors next week with the arrival on the scene of the Little Rascals Boutique.

Bonnie Pentney is the owner of this latest addition to the Minden retail scene. Her store, which carries clothing, toys and furniture for children, will be located above the Minden Home Hardware store with access via the stairway on Peck Street.

It was an advertisement in a magazine which prompted Bonnie to think about opening her own store. The advertisement described how one individual made a success of catering to the clothing, toy and furniture needs of children. Surveying the retail community in the county, Bonnie felt there was a need for a similar store.

"An acquaintance of our's recently attempted to purchase a crib here," she commented, "But they had to go outside the county to find one." Bonnie uses that illustration as an example of some of the frustrations felt by parents in attempting to find items for their children. She recognizes that a number of stores do have toys and clothing, but feels there is still an untapped market on which to capitalize.

The store's main area of concentration will be on clothing sized 0 to 14. The store will sell new as well as used clothing, although the used clothing will only be available up to size 8. Bonnie notes that children grow so quickly that clothing rarely wears out or becomes too soiled for others to wear and appreciate.

The Little Rascals will also have new clothing, including a line by Cricket.

This is the first independent venture for Bonnie. She has a strong background in bookkeeping, which she feels will be a major asset in running her own business. But perhaps, most importantly, Bonnie is the mother of two pre-school children, so she has first hand experience in the requirements of the younger set.

The Little Rascals Boutique opens May 13. It will be open daily 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Tuesday to Saturday.

New shop

For those interested in quality pine furniture in the traditional designs, a new store north of Minden on Highway 35 is bound to be a major attraction.

Operated by Mervyn and Eleanor Bunker, the new store is known whimsically as Bunker's Hill. The new outlet features an interesting selection of carefully restored antiques and memorabilia. However, the real star of the shop floor is the pine furniture manufactured by Mervyn.

Using traditional designs and methods, the furniture pieces reflect the pioneer era of Canada and Haliburton County. Included in the selections are a hutch, dry sink and a lovely bedroom suite, the bed trimmed with walnut.

Outside the store is an interesting diversion that will delight the youngsters and fascinate the old folks. Mervyn has restored a gas driven water pump. With a couple of heft turns of the fly wheel and a little spark from a dry cell, the engine chugs into action.

The shop is not open yet, but the Bunkers plan to be ready for the Victoria Day weekend.

The tops on

Those watching the progress at the corner of Highway 35 and Main Street, will have noticed that the roof of the new Dollo's IGA was completed last week. This past week the floor of the new structure was also being poured.

Also completed during the week was the laying of the blocks. Store owners, Peter and David Dollo, chose an interesting decorative block for the exterior of the structure. The sandy-red tones and rough surface of the blocks is a welcome departure from the usual sterile geometric designs.

With the roof and floor in place, work on the interior of the building can now begin. While progress may not be as evident from the outside, the large number of service vehicles coming and going from the construction site will be a good indication of the activity carrying on inside the building as they prepare for a summer opening.

Popcorn palaces reopen

The movies returned to Haliburton County last week as the Beaver and Molou theatres re-opened their doors for another season. Theatre owner Lou Consky has said there is an interesting line-up of shows for the coming season including Pretty in Pink, Wild Cats, Porkies IV and Police Academy III among others. Pass the popcorn please.

Parking

Nothing can be more frustrating for shoppers than to find all the parking spots on a community's Main Street taken, especially when some of the spots are taken by vehicles belonging to the merchants or their staff. It is a common complaint and one that communities like Minden and Haliburton, with limited Main Street parking, should be worried about.

It was one of the items brought to the attention of the merchants attended the Haliburton business association's organizational meeting recently. The message apparently got through to most individuals because, according to one observer, the offenders had moved their wheels to other locations. The question is...will the move last, or will shoppers once again find themselves doing battle with the merchants they wish to patronize over the limited Main Street parking facilities whenever they shop in either community?

from the chamber

by Shawn Hagerman

For the last several weeks, I have been getting up early and going for a jog. This is something I have not done for many years.

However, this spring, after a particularly long winter, I did not want to miss that special time at daybreak. On my first morning, with the ice barely off the lake, I heard the haunting cry of our loon, announcing his return for another year. Even more special is my six year old son, who has decided to accompany me on my early morning jaunts. He is pedalling furiously on his new two-wheeler, either to catch up or beat me to the next turn in the road. We seem to find anything and everything to talk about.

As a person in business, it has often seemed that doing things with your children was something that, maybe, got worked into your day, if there was time. I read last year about a study in the U.S. that showed the average father spend less than three minutes a day talking to his children. Try timing yourself. You may be as surprised as I was at how close you are to the national average.

I think that the quality of life here must be the most outstanding attraction of Haliburton County. Yet if in your job or business, you become so busy that you don't have time to enjoy this beauty of nature around you, or more importantly your own family and friends, then I think something very valuable has been lost. If that is lost then we have less to give to make Haliburton County a better place to live.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

If you are unemployed and registered with Employment and Immigration Canada, the following job opportunities are available to you through the Haliburton Highlands Outreach Centre, 457-1316.

Keeping an eye on the banks

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

Our government is committed to strengthening our ability to supervise federal financial institutions. The recent failure of a number of financial institutions underlines the need for change to strengthen and improve legislation governing non-bank financial institutions.

Bill C-85 has already been introduced to rebuild the financial position of Canada Deposit Insurance. A detailed study is also being conducted on the mandate and operations of the office of the Inspector General of Banks.

On April 7, the Minister of State (Finance) introduced Bill C-103, An Act to Amend the Loan Companies Act, the Trust Companies Act, the Bank Act and the Quebec Savings Bank Act in respect of certain regulatory matters.

Bill C-103 has three main thrusts. First, it will enable the government to prevent transfers of ownership of financial institutions which are deemed to be against the public interest. Secondly, it will permit the government to take earlier action when problem situations develop. Supervisors would be empowered to issue cease and desist orders if institutions engage in activities of questionable procedure. Third, in applying solvency and liquidity tests, the government will be empowered to prescribe values for real estate and assets secured by real estate. This will help ensure that assets of financial institutions are appropriately valued.

The measures in this bill, which are long overdue, were published as draft legislation on November 29, 1985, and are based on proposals in a discussion paper on April 15, 1985.

Agricultural deadline

On April 28, John Wise, the Minister of Agriculture, announced that the deadlines for producer enrollment in the national tripartite price stabilization schemes have been extended to June 15 for hog and lamb producers and June 30 for slaughter cattle and cow-calf operators.

The decision was made in consultation with the national Stabilization Committees that direct the various schemes in order to make sure that farmers have enough time to study the terms and conditions of the schemes before enrolling.

Handbooks, enrollment and registration forms for each commodity will be mailed directly to producers by mid-May. If producers have not received copies by May 19, they should contact their provincial stabilization office, marketing agency or local agricultural office.

No first quarter payments have been triggered for hogs or slaughter cattle under the program as feed costs were substantially lower in the first quarter. This is reflected in the support prices. Support prices for the quarter were $66.95 per hundredweight for hogs and $71.46 per hundredweight for slaughter cattle.

The lamb scheme went into effect March 1, 1986 and has not been in operation for a full quarter. Payments under the feeder calf scheme are annual.

Partners with the federal government in the tripartite program are Alberta and Ontario for hogs, slaughter cattle, feeder calves and lambs, Saskatchewan for hogs and lambs; Manitoba for hogs and Prince Edward Island for the two cattle schemes.

like a piece of forked fly-paper, the tongue is flicked out to capture odour molecules - from the air, or off surfaces. Withdrawn, the tongue is then pressed into the Jacobson's organ - a unique hollow on the roof of the snake's mouth, lined with specialized cells similar to those in our nose. Using this, the snake can identify and trace unbelievably faint odours.

The female's scent trail attracts a literal parade of males from which to choose. Frequently, several will attempt to mate - and the appearance of an orgy ensues.

Breeding complete, they'll disperse widely. They're not 'tied down' to rotten logs or other egg laying sites like most snakes, since their 10-40 pencil-sized young will be live-born in mid summer. They'll be on their own right from birth, desperate to build fat reserves before winter's onset. Garters are among our most versatile predators, eating almost any animal material which they can catch and swallow - worms, grasshoppers and other large insects, upland leopard frogs, marsh-edge green frogs, baby mice and even carrion. They can go for weeks without food, drinking dew and gorging themselves whenever an opportunity arises.

like people who'll visit with them."

Chantelle's rounds with the tuck cart are only half over and she moves on down the hall. But it's getting warmer outside. The wind has dropped and the sun is high in the sky. It's a safe bet though that the bulk of Canadian youth is still warming itself in front of the Saturday morning television.

For all these reasons, garter snakes are found in almost every habitat - meadows, forests, marshes, and even wild corners of gardens. Moreover their range extends from Mexico north, far into the boreal forest. No other snake has such a wide range.

Maligned by centuries of folklore, garter snakes are in reality intriguing, highly beneficial animals, useful in controlling pest outbreaks. They are completely harmless, biting only if grabbed or stepped upon - and even then, only capable of inflicting a few harmless pin-pricks.

Next time you see a garter snake, curb that conditioned impulse to run in the opposite direction. Have a closer look - if you can - and you'll discover a fascinating creature.

Total snowfall for winter	263 cm	103.5 in.
Lakes all clear of ice by April 8

April was quite a variable month, real warm first week then a spell of cloudy cool weather, then warm again by the end of the month.

The warm weather the end of March and first part of April had snow gone quite early and the lakes clear of ice by April 8th. Average was slightly warmer than last April.

Rain and snowfall was considerably less than last April.

Trivia: April 6, 1985, a severe windstorm swept across southern Ontario causing considerable damage. April 30, 1984 same conditions with perhaps more damage.

Rain is caused by low pressure areas, cold fronts, warm moist air and freshly washed cars.

Congratulations to Ron Tyler of Haliburton on his "Award of Merit" for 20 years as weather observer.

$15,000 grant approved for shuffleboard court

The Federal Department of Health and Welfare has approved a contribution of $15,221.00 to the Minden Seniors' Shuffleboard Club, Bill Scott M.P. for Victoria-Haliburton announced Wednesday, April 30. The grant will cover part of the construction cost of four outdoor shuffleboard courts and will also to toward the organization of special shuffleboard programs.

The estimated cost of the courts, says Mr. Scott, is approximately $23,000.00. The balance of this cost, about $8,000.00 will be raised by the Shuffleboard Committee through raffles and sales. No date for the start of construction has been set, but it is hoped that work will begin sometime this summer.

The idea for the shuffleboard courts, came about last October when Minden resident Bill Ingram and his wife were attending a shuffleboard competition in Haliburton. It seemed to be going very well and everyone was enjoying himself, so he thought "Why don't we have one in Minden?" Mr. Ingram says there are plenty of seniors in Minden who would appreciate a court in their own town, and many people have expressed an interest in the project. "Lots of people have been calling me up and saying I want in."

The shuffleboard courts, he says, will help seniors become more active and will give them more opportunities to enjoy themselves. The grant for the courts was made available under the New Horizons Program, an agency set up by the Department of Health and Welfare, designed to improve the quality of life for seniors and retired Canadians.

The Minden Seniors Shuffleboard Club hope to organize a Senior Games Tournament and to attract other retired people to their community.

Residents, other than seniors, will not be discouraged from using the court, says Mrs. Ingram. Members will, of course, have preference, he explained, but the Minden Club hopes to be able to organize tournaments and games for children and people other than seniors.

$35,000 damage

An accident occurred on Friday, May 2, at the corner of Bayshore Acres Road and Highway 118. According to police, Thomas Googh of Minden was driving north on 118 when he tried to turn left onto Bayshore Acres Road. Mr. Googh's vehicle was struck by another vehicle, driven by Robert Clarke of Gilmour, which was travelling south on 118. Mr. Clarke applied his brakes when he saw Mr. Googh's car turn, but he was unable to avoid a collision.

Mr. Googh has been charged with making an unsafe turn. No injuries were reported.

Damage to both cars has been estimated at $3500.

Deer struck

There were 3 car - deer accidents, police report, between April 28 and May 4. As the deer population is on the rise at this time of year, motorists are advised to drive carefully.

Canoe found

A canoe was found adrift on Little Bob Lake on Friday, May 2. The boat is now at the Minden Detachment of the OPP, where the owner can retrieve it. Anyone claiming the canoe must supply a description.

New business caters to custom market

Specializing in custom woodworking, Brama Enterprises is one of the most recent businesses to open in Minden.

The site on Bobcaygeon Road, near Minden Cultural Centre, may be new, but the business has been in operation for four years.

Jeff Manser ran his own custom woodworking shop in Kinmount until last fall when he and his brother

Colin built their new shop and office finished appropriately in tongue and groove pine siding.

The two young craftsmen specialize in kitchen cabinets, bathroom vanities and interior and exterior doors, but as Jeff explained recently, "We take orders of all kinds."

Their customer built hutches, deacon's benches and bookcases attest to their diverse cabinet-making skills. They will also design pieces for customers or work from a submitted design, but as Jeff explained, "Usually what happens is a customer comes in with an idea then we sit down and come up with a design together."

They have found there is a big demand for custom built interior and exterior doors. All the doors they construct are put together using mortice and tenon joints and are finished with industrial lacquers. "The lacquer is sprayed on, not brushed. That way we come out with the smoothest finish possible," Jeff said.

Jeff pointed out that while he prefers to work with hardwoods, pine interior doors have become one of the business' specialties. "A lot of our business comes from people who can't get the kind or size of doors they want." Whether it is for a renovated home or for a new structure, "We can build a door to any dimension." In constructing doors, furnishings or cupboards, the Manser brothers use only kiln dried lumber that has a moisture content of 6-8%.

Jeff pointed out that besides designing and building kitchen cupboards, they also install the finished product.

With a full complement of woodworking tools and equipment from jointers to table saws to radial arm saws, the specialists in woodworking are capable of tackling any custom order although as Jeff noted, "We don't do windows."

Judging from the order they have had from local homeowners and contractors, their expertise and service are very much in demand.

Chisel in hand, Jeff Manser applies the finishing touches to a pine door, one of many specialties of the custom woodworking shop.

Guides test outdoor skills

Members of the Minden Guide Company enjoyed a weekend of outdoor camping, hiking and horseback riding. The chill temperatures tested the girls' mettle but despite the adverse conditions, they survived the rigours of the outdoor experience. Students capture awards

A Haliburton school has a winner in the vocal music category of the North Hastings Music Festival held last week at Bancroft. Miss Katie Rodley of West Guilford obtained second place among nine contestants in the solo class for 7 years old and under. Katie, who is 6, is a pupil of Mrs. Maraylene Welch's grade 1 class at Victoria Street school.

An excellent showing was made by students from Cardiff school in the recently held North Hastings Music Festival at Bancroft. Following are the Festival results in vocal and choral music:

Honourable mention goes to Nicole Howarth and Jodi Nixon also to Adam Spence and Gordon Shaw - for Jr. Duet marks of 81 and 82 respectively.

Third place winners included Brenda Watson and Susie Mumford with 83 in Jr. Duet; the grade 1-2 classroom choir with 81 and the triple duet with 83.

Second place went to Rachael Robinson and Kim

Card who achieved a mark of 84 in Jr. Duet; the Kindergarten classroom choir with 83 and French Folk Song - featuring Mr. Gerard Mumford on violin - with 82.

First prize winners were Stephanie Fults and Pamela Andrews with 83 in Sr. Duet; Stacey and Andrea McLennan with 84 in Open Duet; Triple Trio with 83; the grade 3-4 classroom choir with 83 and the Boys' choir with a mark of 84.

Piano accompaniment for the Cardiff school events was provided by Mr. Bill Gliddon, Music Education instructor in the seven elementary schools in Haliburton County. The Kindergarten choir number was directed by Mr. Gliddon, but accompanied on the xylophone by Michael Shaw, a pupil in Mrs. Ryan's kindergarten class.

Adjudicator for the vocal and piano classes was Mrs. Doreen Simmons. Individual music teachers, adjudicators and members of the Festival Committee are to be commended on preparing and conducting such a fine event which so encourages our young people to participate in the great art of music.

Skating club elects executive

On Wednesday April 29, 1986, members of the Minden Figure Skating Club gathered for the annual dinner and meeting. Elected for next year's executive were the following members:

President - Nancy Garbutt.

Vice-president - Pat Balcombe.

Secretary - Norma Burk.
Treasurer - Michelle Barkwell.

Other directors included Toni Carr, Lee Henderson, Mary Jane Irwin, Joan Pritchard, Corinne Howell, Joanne Berube, Diane Dollo, Linda Schrader, Margo Sisson, Sharon Walker, Louise Leonard, Jim Garbutt and Linda Pawluch.

We had an excellent supper with 43 members and ten senior coaches attending. The meal was catered by Liz Alrutz.

Tammy Pritchard raised $256.00 for the Skate-A-Thon and half of it went to the Minden Figure Skating Club. Other members who also skated were Meghan Obee and Janene Garbutt.

The Minden Skating club will be catering the Ride for Sight pancake breakfast on June 8.

Toni Carr presented a tape of the carnival to our Senior coach Jane Symons on behalf of the club for the extra work she did for the Carnival.

The next general meeting will be held May 13 at 8:00 in the Minden Municipal office.

The club enjoyed a very good year, thanks to the skaters, coaches, and executive and all the parents involved.

Students from John MacLennan's Grade 3 class at Archie Stouffer Elementary School explain a metric display to parents Mary Nesbitt, left, and Sharon Robinson. The display was part of an open house at the school during Education Week in which parents were invited to see what their kids are doing in class.

Youth loan program

by Jane Selbie

With summer fast approaching, students may be finding normal job hunting approaches unsuccessful.

The Start-Up programme, sponsored by the Ontario government, may be a solution to adventurous young people with a bright idea. The basic concept is to make available an interest free loan of $2000 or less to begin your own business.

You must be a full time student, returning to school this fall, eligible for work in Ontario and operating the business in Ontario. You would qualify if between the ages of 15 and 24. It is necessary to have someone guarantee the loan if under 18 years.

For more information on this and other youth programmes, the Youth Hotline is available. Call toll free, 1-800-387-0777.

We have pamphlets, resource books and ideas for all ages. Call the Haliburton County Information Centre at 457-2733 or come into our office at the Drag River building in Haliburton.

Grant approved

John Eakins, MPP Victoria-Haliburton has announced the $1,527 final payment on an $11,897 community planning grant for the Township of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

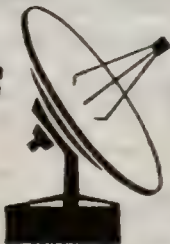

Speaking on behalf of Bernard Grandmaitre, Minister of Municipal Affairs, Mr. Eakins said the grant was used by the municipality to prepare a new comprehensive zoning by-law.

Community planning grants are designed to encourage municipalities to review and update their planning programs, zoning bylaws and other planning documents.

The grants may also be used for special studies on local issues such as lakeshore development or commercial development along highways and for energy-conserving planning measures.

FOR THE LOVE OF GOD. GIVE.

The uniform is like a beacon on the street. It signals help. Compassion. Caring. But not many people know how much it takes to be a soldier in the Salvation Army. The inhuman hours. The incredible patience. The brutal situations. Taking responsibility for those whom society is unable to take responsibility for. Providing help, and then hope, for the people who need it most. But they know. Anyone whose life the Salvation Army has touched knows. And we ask for them, that you give. As much as you can. For the love of God.

senior league

by Edna Cowan

We started the week off with Fun and Fitness as usual and had crafts after lunch. There seemed to be many visitors in to see folks. I guess everyone is getting out and about in this beautiful weather. It is hard to believe that it is only the end of April, feels like June or July. I can never figure out why we are said to live in the Temperate Zone. It is anything but. However, we take the good spells and be thankful.

Linda showed us movies in the auditorium after supper. They were 'Atlantic North' a show on the Atlantic ocean and the shores it washes against. 'Mountain Park' all about Jasper National Park and the creatures, small and great who live in it. Very interesting. 'Ancient Rome' all about Rome as it was and is now. I've said it before, it's just as good as being there.

Tuesday morning, Pastor Wood and his wife from Allsaw Pentecostal Church came and took chapel service. After lunch we had a good quiz down in the crafts room. Mrs. Wilson's grandchildren came over from school and enjoyed their lunch with their Grandma in the Tuck Shop. Mrs., Isabella Robertson and Mrs. Joyce Hewitt came to visit Mrs. Eastman. They also brought Mrs. Margaret Stringer to see her sister, Mrs. Nin Stutt. They all enjoyed a good visit.

We are sorry to report that Harry Cowan is in Minden hospital, he hasn't looked very well for quite a while and collapsed on Monday. Keep your spirits up Harry if you can.

Everett Fearrey and his daughter Terri Lyn and Sheldon Stevenson came in and gave us a nice program of music in the evening, we enjoyed it very much.

The Wilberforce ACW brought us our afternoon tea party this week and some beautiful music afterwards. We sure appreciate good music, so much better than anything on T.V. They had a very talented pianist with them, but I didn't get her name.

Warren Payne came in and called the bingo and we thank him very much as this makes Thursday evening for some of the residents.

We had very sad news this Thursday morning when we were told that Clara Coulter, one of the residents, had died last night. Clara was just the nicest person, very quiet, never complaining about anything and to know her was to love her. Our sincere sympathy to her three sisters. They will surely miss her.

Mrs. Annie Cox has had a lot of her relatives to visit lately, also a dear friend of the family, Allen Erwin from Hamilton. Her granddaughter Sally Cox is starting to write her graduation exams as an RN on May 5, we wish her success.

Lily Hogg had a nice visit from her niece Linda and her husband Hans Buehler; Russell and Jean Hogg and Lily says she never has company.

Edna Sedgewick was in and had a chat with Annie Cox. They wintered down south and enjoyed it.

Garnet and Wanda Davis were in calling on his mother Tessie and he also had a few minutes to see his aunt Annie Cox.

We were rather disappointed on Friday morning to see white patches of snow but we all knew that really warm weather couldn't last. It's sure been cold this last couple of days.

Mary McKelvey has gone to her daughter's in Brampton for a week. We hope that she'll have a good time.

Winnie Barnum is out for a few days too. Leaves quite a few empty places in the dining room. Angus Coulter is supposed to return any day. We are wishing you well and hope you soon make it back Angus.

I had a visit from Dave and Marilyn and from granddaughters Colleen and Elaine on Sunday. There have been a lot of people in visiting their folks over this weekend which is good as we all need our spirits lifted and a visit from our own folks always does it. We than know that we are not forgotten.

See you next week maybe! Take care!!

Call is out for lawn bowlers

by Bruce Armstrong

Most of the lawn bowlers entering the community Senior Games this year belong to the Minden Club and therein lies a problem. Their first general meeting is May 21 while the closing date for games registration is May 20, therefore those bowlers interested in submitting a team entry should contact the convenor, Lloyd Boskett or call the Drop-In Centre at 457-2171.

The Minden indoor lawn bowling club, incidentally, is right in style for more and more "dome" facilities are being built in Britain while a new indoor rink was recently completed in Richmond Hill, Ontario.

We learned at school that

Sir Francis Drake had to leave his game of bowls in 1588 to sail out to meet and defeat the Spanish Armada. He could have been in Southampton which boasts the oldest known club - it was officially founded in 1299.

Originally wooden, the biased or slightly flattened bowls are now made of a composite material and are designed to curve in a long arc from the bowler to the 'Jack' some one hundred feet away.

We have been promised Provincial competition in the 1988 Ontario Senior Games, so let's stay healthy and keep practicing.

BIG ON SMALL FARMS.

Sole tractor on a small farm or chore tractor on a big farm. The Kubota L345 is a giant in its class.

Standard features on both the two- and four-wheel drive models include live rear PTO, draft and position control, power steering, and a 29 PTO hp 4-cylinder diesel engine. And it handles implements like a plow, cultivator, front loader, front blade, rear-mount mower and backhoe without a problem.

Compare the L345 tractor. You'll find it sizes up nicely.

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

The elections for this year have come and gone and what a night it was. At one time during the voting, 140 members were present to exercise their franchise. This is a record turnout for a Branch 129 election.

From the results of the vote it was obvious that the electorate gave President Joan Irish and her executive a vote of confidence and thanks for completed and future tasks and plans.

The election was run by Zone Commander Mel Robertson, assisted by Deputy Zone Commander Stan Moore as chief scrutineer and Lloyd Taverner president of the Coboconk Legion, Pete Heale president of Fenelon Falls Legion and Albert Crego, Zone Sports officer from Kinmount as scrutineers.

The results of the elections are as follows:

President Joan Irish;

Immediate Past President Bruce McKay; First vice president Doug Pritchard; second vice president Fred Knight; third vice president Gerald Irish; secretary Mabel Brannigan; treasurer Wally Chambers; auditor Dawson, Grey, Dart; sergeant at arms Irv Chambers. Executive, Allin Cooper, Reg Crockett, Jack McDonagh, Ed Pickard, Lloyd Whittaker and Wayne Wood.

Service Officer by appointment of the president Lloyd Whittaker.

Following the elections the new branch officers were formally installed. They were joined in these installation ceremonies by the newly-elected Ladies Auxiliary officers.

Ladies Auxiliary officers elected last Monday are:

President - Jan Shipley; first vice president Jane Johnston; second vice president Ruth Schell; secretary Jean Marsh; treasurer Joyce Ross; sergeant at arms Joan Hobson; Executive: Irene Higgins, Eileen Morrison, Verna Draper, Joyce Wood, Laura Bannon, Catherine Juby and Ann Pitman.

Installations were conducted by Zone Commander, Deputy Zone Commander Stan Moore and Ladies Auxiliary Zone Commander Gwen Cox.

A particularly impressive part of the ceremonies came when the two newly elected presidents were piped to their installations by Legion Band Piper Earl Cooper. The presidents were flanked by an escort of past presidents and a colour party.

Both presidents pledged their continued commitment to Legion and co-operation between the two segments of the branch. They thanked their supporters and promised to do their very best for Branch 129.

At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies a delicious pot-luck meal was set out.

Speaking personally and on behalf of all newly-elected officers, thank you to the electorate.

Winner of last week's 50-50 draw was Mrs. Isabelle Jobin. She won $37.25.

I'm sure there are other Legion items of interest to report but right now I can only think back to election night and its results. Everything else seems to be crowded out of my mind. I promise to do better in my next news report.
